The Fifth International Symposium on Ubiquitous Networking

Presentation

The international symposium on Ubiquitous Networking (UNet) highlights new trends and findings in hot topics related to ubiquitous computing/networking. UNet provides an excellent opportunity to share knowledge and the practicability of sciences and technologies of information and communications. This special event intends to bring together researchers and practitioners to present and discuss their recent progresses in all major areas of ubiquitous networking with a particular focus on 5G, B5G, 6G, Tactile Internet, Internet of Things and Ambient Intelligence. This edition will be colocated with IEEE 5G Summit Limoges.

The UNet'19 program will host numerous special talks addressed by distinguished keynote speakers and highly reputed visionary experts and industry leaders. This edition will also feature technical papers, tutorials, special sessions, and workshops.

Call for Papers

UNet 2019 will features thematic content and solicits original contribution across, but not limited to, the following tracks:

- Ubiquitous Communication Technologies and Mobile/Wireless Networking
- Tactile Internet and Ubiquitous Internet of Things
- Mobile Edge Networking and Fog-Cloud Computing
- Data Engineering for Ubiquitous Environments
- - Cyber Security for Ubiquitous Communications
- - Pervasive Services and Ambient Intelligence

In addition to regular papers, Work-in-Progress papers and Position papers are also solicited. Prospective authors are invited to submit original papers with unpublished material and not currently submitted for consideration elsewhere. Manuscripts should not exceed 12 LNCS formatted pages, including figures, tables, and references. All submissions have to be done online using the EDAS online submission tool.

Papers delivered at UNet 2019 will be published and indexed by Springer Nature as a part of the Lecture Notes in Computer Science (LNCS) Series. They will also be submitted to SCOPUS, ISI, DBLP and other leading indexing services. Papers of particular merit will be recommended for a possible special issue in highly ranked international journals.

Tutorial & Special Session proposals

In addition to the regular tracks, UNet'19 will feature high-quality Tutorials, Special Sessions, Industry Panels and Exhibitions. Proposals should contain an abstract, scope, intended audience, duration, objectives, an outline, a biographical sketch of presenters and any other information that may assist in making decisions. Guidelines are available in the event website

UNet'19 encourages the organization of special sessions. A special session should include 4-12 papers, and aims to address a hot topic or consists of work done within the framework of a particular international project. Special sessions should complement the main tracks with new and emerging topics of interest. A special session proposal should contain the title of the special session, the names and affiliations of the organizers, the names and affiliations of the invited authors as well as the titles of their tentative contribution (if any).

Call for Sponsorship & Exhibits

The UNet'19 and the IEEE 5G Summit Limoges joint events offer an attractive business opportunity for organizations to demonstrate their commitment (research and products) to the field of ubiquitous networking and pervasive systems, gain feedback and establish collaborative links with an international audience of technical, academics, innovators, business leaders and deciders.
